Keanupui, "The Government," was up against it this morning to the tune of 24, that amount being thought sufficient to square his books act of last night. Judge Long did the thinking.

Mary Makalo, today asked the Circuit Court to appoint her administratrix of the estate of David Makalo. The hearing was set for July 3. A petition was filed for the appointment of Kaloia N. Gray as guardian of Sarah and Amy Helene Nakokoo, both minors, of Molokai.

A subject of the Mikado named Hirata made a noble attempt to mop up all the sake in sight last night, but evidently overestimated his capacity, as he was gathered in by the cops and provided with a nice bed at the station. At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors yesterday afternoon, City Attorney Cathcart presented a request that the salary of the first Deputy County Attorney be increased to $225 a month and that of the second deputy to $200 a month. Increased work handed over to the County Attorney's department by the last Legislature is the reason for the increase given in the request.

In the ejectment case of W. O. Smith and others against John and Keola Kapona, a jury was secured in Judge Whitney's court this morning and the taking of evidence will begin this afternoon. This is a case where a certain piece of land in Pua Lane, Honolulu, was occupied and held by the Kaponas and the plaintiffs claim legal rights to the property. The suit will be bitterly contested by the present occupants of the land.

A bill to foreclose a $2000 mortgage was filed in the Circuit Court today by Paul Muhlenhoff, M. P. Robinson, Jas. E. Jaeger, and Mrs. B. M. Allen, trustees under the last will of S. C. HONGKONG MARU
LEAKS CELESTIALS

There has been a leak somewhere on board the Hongkong Maru since she docked yesterday at the Highfield wharf, and as a consequence Captain H. S. Smith was arrested this morning on complaint of R. L. Halsey of the Customs Service and arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Judd. The leak let out three Chinamen, now supposed to be roaming at large in Honolulu in violation of Uncle Sam's Chinese Exclusion laws. There were 681 gentlemen from the Celestial Empire and the Empire of the Setting Sun, and Captain Smith had a hard job keeping his weather eye on the whole bunch. A thousand Japs swarmed around her last night and exchanged banquets with the bunch on board, and in the excitement that followed the Celestials, who don't banal, made the most of their chance. Captain Smith was released on a $500 bond to appear before the Commissioner in September, two officials of Halsey & Co. going on it.

ers that appeared off the harbor at the same time. The vessel was still ten or twelve feet from the dock when Makino snatched Kiyose out of the crowd, pointed to the reporters who were waiting at the dock to interview him and made rapid signals to the effect that he must keep a closed mouth.
The minute the gang-plank was in position and before the lines were cast off, one of his lieutenants evaded the custom officer at the foot of the plank and rushed on board to instruct Kiyose, or dislodge him, as to the purposes of the newspaper men who followed. Makino's crowd surrounded him and started him down at once. One of them said in Japanese, "Don't speak to him," as a reporter approached and in consequence all that could be learned was that he would stay about a week here, and the name of his paper.
